

Cautious sentiment persists

In 41W26, market liquidity rebounded. Specifically, the trading volume and value of the CWs market recorded 312.9 million CWs/VN220.9bn, up 26.2%/ 20.5%, respectively, WoW.

With trading value by an underlying asset, the CWs that TCB and HDB as the underlying asset attracted the most trading interest, recording 25% of total trading volume. Following them were warrants based on stocks such as VPB, MWG, MSN, VHM, HPG, and STB.

During the week, sentiment in the covered warrant market remained cautious, as the number of warrants declining in price continued to outweigh those advancing. This was consistent with the underlying market, where the VNIndex fell 0.1%, marking its third consecutive weekly decline. The continued weakness suggested that correction pressure remained present, while investor sentiment had yet to show clear signs of improvement.

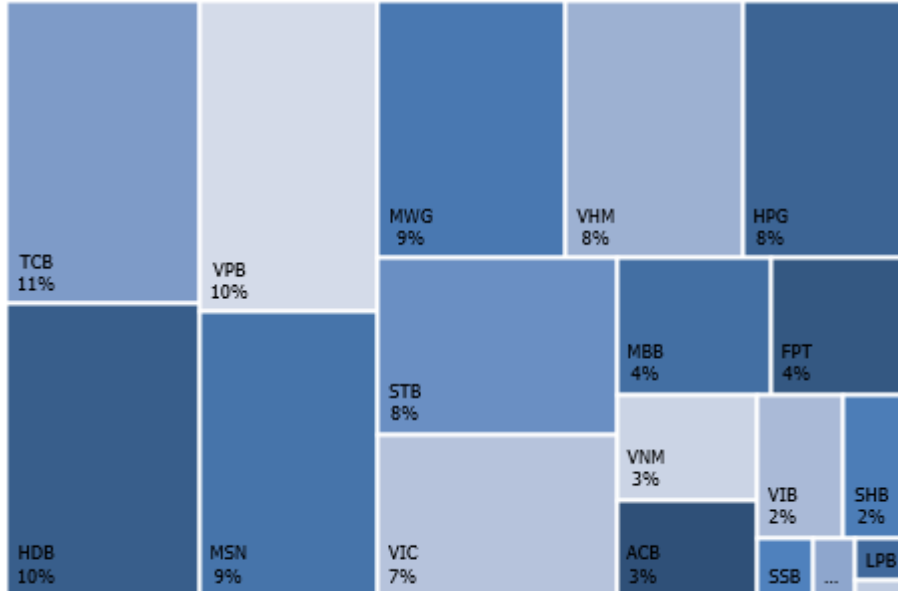

Note: The covered warrant market is commonly used for short-term trading which means volatility level is extremely high. Notably, covered warrant has the positive correlation with its underlying, the short-term fluctuation in the underlying price could lead to the big move in covered warrant.
